Instructions for University Credit through
EduTech or Regional Education Association (REA) Cafeteria Plans

Upon completing Cognia Learning Community Labs, you are eligible for university credit. Each completed Learning Community Lab is equivalent to three (3) hours toward the 15 required hours for university credit. You can secure credit in the following ways:

1. Complete five Learning Community Labs and apply for credit through EduTech using the Cognia Learning Community Lab Completion for Credit Form.
2. Complete five Learning Community Labs and apply for credit through your local REA using the REA University/Cafeteria Credit Form.
3. Complete any number of Learning Community Labs and combine hours with other EduTech trainings and apply for credit using the Cognia Learning Community Lab Completion for Credit Form.
4. Complete any number of Learning Community Labs and combine hours with other REA trainings and apply for credit using the REA University/Cafeteria Credit Form.

For EduTech credit assistance contact Jill Baird, Information Technology Specialist:

Jill.Baird@k12.nd.us
701-213-9377
https://www.edutech.nodak.edu/

For REA credit assistance contact your local Regional Education Association:
https://ndrea.org/